mon Fleas this morning the Assembly was detailed to receipt for articles received at the Incumbrance Bureau.

Mr. Lamb, in his statement, said that Kerrigan hud received the greatest number of votes in the Nineteenth Assembly District, and had received his certificate of election from the City Clerk.

He had received no certificate of appointment to the Street-Cleaning Department, thad taken no oath of office, was required to give no bond, his position was held for no definite time, and he was, in fact, a mere employee or servant of the Department, and as such could not be regarded as an officer of the city government within the meaning of the Constitution.

In further argument Mr. Lamb stated that Duffy the contestant, was such an that Duffy the contestant, was such and had acted as an inspector on the fixed as the constitution of the police Commissioners and that Duffy the contestant, was such and the decision.

He saw a spointed an inspector on the fixed as a nampeotor on the fixed as an inspector on the fixed as an inspector on the fixed state and the decision.

Forthermore, Mr. Lamb said that on the day of registration last October. He registed his office on Oct. 17. Clearly, it was said, the law applies to Duffy with greater force than it does to Kerrigan.

Forthermore, Mr. Lamb said that on the day of election the electors of the case as well as the consistent with the contestant was such and the contestant was such as the contestant was such as the contestant was such as a contest of the contestant was such and the decision.

temporary aberration of the mind as a result of excessive drink.

He had been drinking heavily the last few days, the reporter was informed, but there had been no family trouble, nor had the doctor suffered any misfortune so far as was known.

He came downstairs at 7.30 this morning and took his usual place at the breakfast table with his wife and two children. Suddenly he jumped up and ran upstairs to his room, without having eaten anything.

Mrs. Holt became suspicious and followed her husband upstairs a few minutes afterwards. In opening his bedroom door she saw him lying on the floor unconscious in a great pool of blood, which flowed from a gash in the throat, extending almost from ear to ear.

A neighboring physician was summoned and the would-be suicide was removed to St. Catherine's Hospital, where it was said that the wound was probably (By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—In the Hou this morning, Mr. McCreary presented from the Foreign Affairs Committee the Hitt resolution calling upon the President for all information relating to Ha watian affairs received since the transthe information which the President was expected to transmit to-day.

Mr. McCreary asked unanimous con-sent for the constocation of the reso-ution. Mr. Richardson (Dem., Tenn.) ob-tered.

Mr. Brosius (Penn.) then completed his speechag ainst the Wilson Tariff bill, begun yesterday.

Mr. Everett, of Massachusetts, followed. He declared that it was his present intention to support the Wilson bill, although it did not go far enough, in his opinion. He should offer amendments to meet his principal objections. What the country demanded, he said, was action, not talk.

He felt it his duty to expiain his position, lest it might be said that his former associations with the Republican party would leave an implication that he still acquiesced in the theory of protection. It was not because he was ranked as a Democrat that he would vote for this measure, but because for years he had believed that broad patriotism has demanded a reform of the tariff in the interest of the people.

He had voted for Mr. Cleveland in 1881, and, unlike some of the Mugwumps of these days, had continued his support of him in 1888 and 1832. He invested against further delay of tariff reform. The time to do a right thing, said he, was when those who believed it right had the power to do it. d.
